

CrystalVision Connection Diagram

This diagram shows a single-channel CrystalVision system. A multi-channel system will incorporate 2 or more cameras and transmitters. These transmitters transmit to a 4-channel receiver, which will cycle between the active channels.

Alternatively, where a DVR is being used, a separate single-channel receiver may be used for each channel, providing continual monitoring of all cameras, and a split-screen display with all cameras on screen simultaneously.